First Time for Everything: by Jane Bekelja Glendo Students are Teton Science School Bound

Get ready. Get Set. Learn! Bud Fagan is a new teacher to the Glendo School family. He moved to Glendo from Centennial, Wyoming where he taught ages K-6. During his twenty-eight years of teaching, Mr. Fagan has won Teacher of the Year in Georgia and in Centennial. He enjoys incorporating hands-on learning experiences for the students. Studies show that hands-on learning increases knowledge retention, student engagement, problem solving skills, critical thinking skills, and social skills.

For a hands-on learning experience, Mr. Fagan likes to take students to Teton Science School in Kelly, Wyoming. This September Glendo students, 4th-8th grade, will get to visit Teton Science School. "The trip is about a week long," said

Fagan. "They will stay three nights and four days." This is the first time Glendo students will have the opportunity to go to the Teton Science School!

Students will experience many activities including hiking, snow shoeing, and cross country skiing. They will study geology, geothermal activity, snow glaciers, species studies, and conservation services. Students will study the geology of the Gros Ventre (groh-VAHNT) landslide and how the earth gave way to the enormous crater that we see today. Students will also be going for a sleigh ride on the Elk Reserve. They will learn about the challenges of managing the herds and what problems arise when man intervenes.

When asked about the cost of sending a student to Teton Science School Mr. Fagan replied, "It costs $420 per student which covers the program fee, meals and lodging." To help with the cost, Glendo PTO will be raffling off a Ruger Hawkeye FTW Hunter 6.5 Creedmoor Bolt Action Rifle-Stainles/Silver, 24 inch, 4 rounds with a value of $1400, a half of beef valued at $1270, and a custom fire pit made by the Ag Students valued at $500. Raffle tickets will go on sale starting February 15, 2024 and the winners will be drawn on April 15, 2024. Tickets are one for $20 or six for $100. "It's a great hands-on learning experience," replied Fagan, "something the student's will remember forever."

Tickets are available from Glendo 4th-8th grade students, Bellwood Boats or contact Jane Bekelja at 307-690-5670.

Manufacturer's Shortage Hits Glendo

by Jane Bekelja

In November the community was told that the Downey well was experiencing problems and was being fixed by Todd Taylor from Eagle Drilling. During the January Town Council meeting Mayor Juska was asked for an update on the Downey well, "We are still working on parts through Todd Taylor," she said, "But he is having a hard time finding parts to repair or replace the pump."

Upon further investigation it was found that Taylor was able to easily find the pump and the pipe, but was unable to find the rest of the parts that were needed. When asked why he had been experiencing such difficulty Taylor replied, "We are being told that these parts are no longer manufactured in the United States. They have to ship them overseas. I talked

Glendo Icebreaker by Jane Bekelja

Glendo's first annual Ice-breaker fishing tournament was met with frigid temperatures. Seventy-nine bundled-up registrants went out over a two-day period to ice fish in one of the state's most beautiful parks.

Doc Hill, Robyn Hill, and Mike Mulvaney, members of Glendo Events and Tourism (G.E.T), led the team in organizing and running the tournament. When asked why they started the fishing tournament Doc Hill said that the group wanted to bring more people to Glendo. We have a lot of summer activities and we wanted to start some winter activities.

The first day it was reported ed that some fishermen were having problems getting their propane tanks to light. During the second day the conditions were not as cold and fishermen had less problems with their propane tanks. At Bellwood Boats, G.E.T. provided a chili meal for the fishermen to warm up with while they looked at raffle and silent auction items.

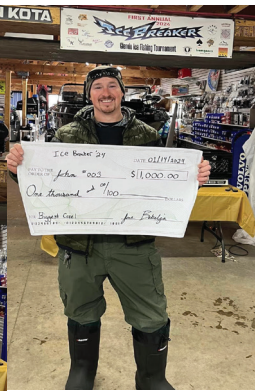

This event wouldn't have been possible without our many Donors and Sponsors. G.E.T. would like to thank the following businesses for their support: Adventure Construction Inc., Anglers, Ashley's Groceries, Bellwood Boats, Big Rock Sporting Goods, Bomgaar's Wheatland, Clark

Fishing and Clothing, Converse County Bank, Glendo Trading Post, Heads Up Taxidermy, Kim's Restaurant, Lakeview Motel and Campground, Mike and Jill Mulvaney, Pete and Bri MacGregor, Recycled Eyez, Rob and Sharon Schnepfe, and Rocky Mountain Discount Sporting Goods.

G.E.T would also like to thank all of the fishermen who came out and participated. G.E.T is looking forward to next year.

to around twenty-five different companies and was not able to find what we needed."

What happens now? Thankfully living in our small community has advantages. Larry Collins, who used to work at the power plant in Wheatland, heard that Eagle Drilling was having a hard time finding the parts and offered to take Taylor to the power plant's warehouse to see if they had any. They were in luck! On Tuesday, January 30, Taylor was able to find what he had been looking for. "We got lucky," Taylor says, "the T (pictured on the right) that we needed is almost $4,000 and Basin Electric has donated it to the Town of Glendo." A huge thank you goes out to Basin Electric, Larry Collins, and Eagle Drilling for helping Glendo get the Downey well up and running.

Words of Wisdom:

When I begin to think of churches, my mind goes in many different directions. I see big churches in big cities. I see small churches in small towns, but the love I see in churches is touching and brings peace to my soul. My walk with Jesus began in a small church that was filled with a great amount of love. It is for this reason that I love small churches best of all.

God has always been good to me, but one of my greatest blessings of life was when God brought me to Glendo, Wyoming. In Glendo I get to be the pastor at one of the best churches in the world.

Glendo Community Church is filled with love, hope and faith. The people of the church are led to action by these three things. I invite you all to come and experience Christ at Glendo Community Church.
